Panama Canal

Transit the legendary Panama Canal on board your perfectly sized ship and delve into the extraordinary destinations on either side of this engineering marvel.

Discover emerald rainforests, colorful wildlife, pristine coastlines, Spanish colonial fortresses, and ancient archaeological sites that radiate with history.

EXPERIENCE A Man-Made Marvel

Transit the Panama Canal's three historic locks — a feat of human ambition that connects two oceans. Your perfectly sized ship navigates this iconic waterway with ease, offering prime viewing while onboard experts share the unbelievable history of its construction and modern expansion.

The Gatún Locks are the closest to the Atlantic Ocean. Their three chambers lower the ship a total of 85 feet back to sea level.

Next are the Pedro Miguel Locks, whose single chamber raises the ship 31 feet up to Lake Gatún.

The Miraflores Locks are the closest to Panama City and the Pacific Ocean. After entering the locks, you'll feel their two chambers raise the ship 54 feet above sea level to match Lake Miraflores.
